WHY DO CATHOLICS DO THAT?

- Father Jacob Maurer

O Lord, hear my voice, for I have called to you; be my help. Do not abandon or forsake me, O God, my Savior!

Cf. Ps 27 (26): 7, 9

Twelve years ago today, around noon and alongside four classmates, I was ordained a priest by Archbishop Brunett at Saint James cathedral for the archdiocese of Seattle. Providentially, the day of my ordination, June 13, is the feast day of my confirmation saint, Saint Anthony of Padua. My first Mass of thanksgiving was at Our Lady Star of the Sea in Bremerton on the solemnity of Corpus Christi - which ended up also being my first Eucharistic procession. It was a great weekend!

At Saint Mark parish, we reserve the intentions of our weekend Masses. The Saturday vigil Mass is always for the faculty & staff of our parish and school. The first Sunday Mass is always our Misa pro populo - for the people of the parish. Our second Sunday Mass is always for the clergy of the archdiocese - especially Archbishop Etienne.

Pray for the priests of the archdiocese. As with all vocations, priesthood has its challenges. But more importantly, it is a great joy and privilege! Please also pray for vocations - not only in general, but from among our families. May the Lord call to the priesthood and religious life our sons & daughters, so that we may continue to celebrate the mysteries of our faith.

Near the end of the General Instruction of the Roman Missal (no. 378), there is found an emphatic exhortation: “Particularly recommended is the Saturday commemoration of the Blessed Virgin Mary, because it is to the Mother of the Redeemer that in the Liturgy of the Church firstly and before all the Saints veneration is given.” Cited are the Vatican II document Lumen Gentium and Pope Paul VI’s exhortation Marialis cultus (both worth reading). At Saint Mark parish, most Saturday morning Masses are dedicated to Mary. The next Saturday you’re free, consider coming!

June 13 is the memorial of Saint Anthony of Padua. Nicknamed ‘The Hammer of Heretics’, he is the patron saint of preachers. Despite being known for his extraordinary gift of teaching, particularly in his homilies, his was a humble start. He began religious life as an Augustinian, later joining the Franciscans.

By happy accident, Anthony was unexpectedly called upon to give a simple sermon. It was at this point that his knowledge and holiness was revealed. He spent the rest of his short life preaching and teaching in Italy & France before his death at the age of 36.

Next Step Pregnancy Services

Annual Baby Bottle Campaign

Please help support Next Step Pregnancy Services in Lynnwood by participating in the upcoming 2021 Baby Bottle Campaign!

Next Step Pregnancy Services offers pregnancy tests, early OB ultrasounds, prenatal care and baby, toddler and maternity supplies all free of charge.

Next Step representatives, including St. Mark parishioner Heather Vasquez, will be in the church vestibule after all Sunday masses on June 27, and the Saturday vigil on the 26th. They will supply information, instructions and answer any questions when we pick up our bottles.

Take a bottle home, fill it with cash or checks made out to Next Step Pregnancy Services (make sure to ask family and friends to participate, too), then return the bottle to Next Step located at 19526 64th Avenue West in Lynnwood anytime Monday through Friday 10:00 am until 5:30 pm by July 23 or bring your bottle back to St. Mark on Sunday, July 25 only and drop it with one of the Next Step representatives in the church vestibule.

We can also donate online at Next Step's support site: <https://nssupport.org/> just look for the Baby Bottle Campaign tab and find St. Mark Baby Bottle Drive to support women and men choosing life for their unborn children.

Next Step Pregnancy Services believes in the sanctity of all human life and strives to protect our most vulnerable. We can help!

Visit <https://nssupport.org/> to also find information including news, events, blogs and volunteer opportunities at Next Step.

Peter's Pence Collection June 27

"Jesus journeyed from one town and village to another, preaching and proclaiming the Good News of the Kingdom of God. Accompanying Him were the twelve...and many others who provided for them out of their resources." ~Luke 8:1,3

The concrete participation in the needs of the universal ecclesiastic community has taken different forms throughout history. Collections and donations by the individual faithful, or entire local churches, raise awareness that all the baptized are called to materially sustain the work of evangelization and, at the same time, to help the poor in whatever way possible. By doing so, they build up the Church so that it will continue to minister to all for generations to come.

During his apostolic visit to Africa in 2015, Pope Francis visited a city's pediatric hospital with a donation of medicines and a promise to not forget the children. Through contributions raised to support Peter's Pence, the Holy Father kept that promise to the children.

Support for papal efforts has its roots in the scriptural message to take care of the poor and is an expression of unity in two ways: through the ongoing activities of the Holy See and through the charitable works of the Holy Father on behalf of those most in need.

Marriage is a gift

One of the goals of the Year of the Family is to proclaim that the sacrament of marriage is a gift that contains in itself a transforming power of human love. Pope Francis writes:

Marriage is a precious sign, for “when a man and a woman celebrate the sacrament of marriage, God is, as it were, ‘mirrored’ in them; he impresses in them his own features and the indelible character of his love. Marriage is the icon of God’s love for us. Indeed, God is also communion: the three Persons of the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit live eternally in perfect unity. And this is precisely the mystery of marriage: God makes of the two spouses one single existence.” (Amoris Laetitia 121)

Married life is a gift. It is a lifelong journey of love, friendship and faith. It is a beautiful mystery wherein two individuals walk together side by side, each fully unique but joined as one.

Our worldly culture tends to paint the picture of love through the lens of romance. Yet we know that romance is just one small part of married life. Romance may be the kindling that sparks the flame of love, but the true beauty of a lifelong commitment lies much deeper and is the greater gift.

The Greatest Form of Friendship

Pope Francis writes:

After the love that unites us to God, conjugal love is the “greatest form of friendship.” It is a union possessing all the traits of a good friendship: concern for the good of the other, reciprocity, intimacy, warmth, stability and the resemblance born of a shared life. (Amoris Laetitia 123)

When two individuals enter into the sacrament of marriage, they commit to be true and steadfast companions: to care for and support one another and to be faithful for the rest of their lives. In a world that is constantly changing, this kind of stability can be a source of great comfort and strength. Especially in this time that is so full of uncertainty, married life can offer a sense of peace that can be hard to find in the world.

What sets the great friendship of marriage apart is how the sacrament sanctifies the passion between husband and wife. In Amoris Laetitia, Pope Francis describes this passion as “always directed to an ever more stable and intense union.” The fire of marital passion is a life-giving force. It galvanizes the friendship between husband and wife, until it “acquires an all-encompassing character” that is unique to the marital union.

An Expansion of the Heart

As two individuals live out their marital vows, they come to know one another in fullness. Years of married life have a way of removing our filters and pretenses. This process is an inevitable part of marriage and intimacy. Pope Francis writes:

Saint Thomas Aquinas said that the word “joy” refers to an expansion of the heart. Marital joy can be experienced even amid sorrow; it involves accepting that marriage is an inevitable mixture of enjoyment and struggles, tensions and repose, pain and relief, satisfactions and longings, annoyances and pleasures, but always on the path of friendship, which inspires married couples to care for one another: “they help and serve each other.”

(Amoris Laetitia 126)

Married couples have the benefit of sharing life’s journey with another person. This is not always easy, but it can be uniquely rewarding and empowering. Fortitude grows as two people grow closer to God and one another through adversity. Virtues are magnified and shared as one person’s strength complements the other’s weakness. In short, married life is an expansion of the heart as the couple come to share in a love that reflects the divine life of the Trinity and blossoms into new life.

Honor the Gift of Your Marriage

- 1. Make a commitment to be in each other's company outside the daily routine. Spend time together in ways that allow you to experience each other, whether in conversation, in recreation, in prayer, or even in silence.
- 2. Take time to "see" one another, both with your eyes and with your heart. Be conscious of observing and appreciating your spouse. Make eye contact during conversation. Allow each other to speak without interruption or judgment. Reignite your curiosity about one another.
- 3. Cultivate the joy in your married life. Find ways to make your spouse smile, or better yet, laugh! Gifts, humor, acts of kindness, even a little silliness from time to time, can go a long way.
- 4. Pray together. Make a commitment to pray regularly as a couple. Attend Mass and encourage one another in your individual faith journeys. Use At Home with Faith to reflect on the weekly Mass readings. Enrich your marriage through retreat experiences.

Unity is not easy. Unity requires give and take.

As a local Church, unity is more than one goal among many. Unity is essential to our mission. The prayer of Jesus for his disciples on the night before he died was that we might be one: "I pray not only for them, but also for those who will believe in me through their word, so that they may all be one, as you, Father, are in me and I in you, that they also may be in us, that the world may believe that you sent me" (John 17:20-21). The effectiveness of our witness depends on our unity. Nowhere is that unity more important than in our celebrations of the Eucharist.

Unity is not easy. Unity requires give and take. As Pope Benedict XVI has written, "Union with Christ is also union with all those to whom he gives himself. I cannot possess Christ just for myself; I can belong to him only in union with all those who have become, or who will become, his own. Communion draws me out of myself towards him, and thus also towards unity with all Christians." The intimate sharing with Christ we experience when we participate in the Eucharist and receive Holy Communion is not strictly between God and myself, because the Mass is not an individual devotion but a communal prayer. For this reason, our celebrations of the Eucharist should be marked not by individual expressions of piety, but by unity.

The singing, the spoken responses, and the postures we take during the Mass — standing, bowing, kneeling — are important signs of that unity, and more: They can actually help build the unity we seek.

Archbishop Paul D. Etienne

The Saints and the Eucharist

Pray, then, come and join this choir, every one of you; let there be a holy symphony of minds in concert; take the tone all together from God, and sing aloud to the Father with one voice through Jesus Christ, so that he may hear you and know by your good works that you are indeed members of his Son's Body. A completely united front will help to keep you in constant communion with God... Let no one be under any illusion; a man who excludes himself from the sanctuary is depriving himself of the bread of God, for if prayer of one or two individuals has such efficacy, how much more powerful is that of the bishop together with his whole church.

St. Ignatius of Antioch
(c. 35-107)

For Reflection

What unites me with my parish community—with my Catholic family throughout the world?

What gets in the way of unity in the Church today?

Are there ways I can be an instrument of unity in our increasingly polarized world?
